Screaming Weenie, Vancouver's own queer theatre, presents The Well of Horniness by Obie award winner Holly Hughes. "Well" is the continuing saga of one woman's sojourn into the septic tank of the soul. The Well Of Horniness is a fast paced cabaret of mysterious lesbians, murderous dykes and lusty dames, set in the cliff-hanging format of a 1940's radio show. How much smut can we dredge up? Five women, one corpse, fifty costume changes, and no backstage! If that doesn't float your boat, we're doomed because this show utterly lacks redeeming social value...

This year Screaming Weenie partners with the Vancouver Pride Society to bring you the show that gave birth to the Weenie. The timing of this show coincides with Vancouver's largest festival, the GLBT Pride 2004 Celebration "In The Name Of Love"!
